

Cheryl L. Clarkson

SkinHealth Centers
President, CEO

Founded in 1999, SkinHealth Centers is a full service medical spa performing facial rejuvenation injectables such as Botox and filler, advanced skin care services, cosmetic laser procedures, and non-invasive body contouring. With a team of Board Certified, Harvard affiliated surgeons, Nurse Practitioners, and Master Aestheticians, SkinHealth's mission is to "Help Men and Women Look Fresh and Vibrant at Any Age." Owned and operated by Cheryl Clarkson, SkinHealth was created in honor of her sister, who passed away due to malignant melanoma. Dedicated to lowering the number of skin cancer cases, Clarkson has created not just SkinHealth Medical Spa, but an entire line of SkinHealth products, including a sunscreen which has been awarded Best Sunscreen by Health Magazine. "We are devoted to constantly updating the line with the newest, most effective mechanisms to protect our customers from the ravaging effects of the sun." says Clarkson. "Modern science has given us new tools and ingredients with which to fight the ravaging effects of UV radiation and sun damage."

With two locations in Massachusetts, SkinHealth Centers is expanding their reach with a newly acquired third location. "Having more locations enables us to help more people, and that is my true passion. Helping people feel good about themselves at every age. Whether you are 25 or 80 years old, we have services tailored to your stage of life. With an increase in life expectancy and a new focus on health, we want to look as good as we feel!" Holding a Masters of Science in Business from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Clarkson has been the president of four medical device and services companies. At just 39 years of age, Clarkson became one of the first women to be named acting-CEO of a publicly traded NASDAQ company. With an impressive business background, Clarkson is also an active participant in the non-profit sector. She is a Trustee of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and has been a founding member of the Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center and a member of the Harvard stem cell task force at Children's Hospital, among many other boards.

Additionally, Clarkson has been invited to the White House on four occasions to advise on business policies and the economy, and has convened and hosted a meeting for a Surgeon General of the United States to meet leading Boston area executives.
